THE CHILDREN ARE WAITING

There are many worthy organizations, working for the health and welfare of children, that ask and receive our support. We Americans are a compassionate people, and even the most unsentimental of us cannot bear to think of children who are waiting for help that does not come.

But how many of us stop to think that when the American Cancer Society asks us this April to help conquer cancer with a Checkup and a Check that our contribution will help thousands of children with cancer?

The tragic fact is that cancer is the leading cause of death from disease among school children. In 1965, more than 5,000 young lives will be lost to cancer.

The greatest single weapon we have against cancer — in both children and adults — is the constant vigilance of the informed individual. Tens of thousands of Americans are alive today because they recognized the danger signals of cancer and received prompt treatment.

During Crusade against Cancer month, your American Cancer Society is conducting a special educational program to make parents aware of the danger of cancer in children. So often this disease begins with some seemingly trivial ailment that is ignored until it is too late.

Parents are urged to know the danger signals of childhood cancer and to consult a doctor if any of these symptoms appear. Prompt action means real hope of a complete cure.

There is as yet no cure or preventive for leukemia, cancer of the blood-forming tissues, which takes the lives of about half of the children who are cancer victims. But, there is growing optimism that leukemia may be the first cancer to be permanently controlled. The American Cancer Society is currently spending over $2 million a year on leukemia-related research alone.

We all wait eagerly for each medical advance that means new hope in our common struggle to cure cancer. Among us are thousands of Children — many too young to read these words — who are victims of cancer.

This April, when you are asked to support the American Cancer Society's Crusade, please remember... the children are waiting.

CAMP OUT

Scout troop No. 210 camped out at Siechmann's Farm Saturday night. About 25 boy scouts attended, with Scout Master Wesley Dorn and assistants, Joe Donoway and Jack Campbell.

Before they left Waveland the trailer load of boys hitched behind Mr. Donoway's car came uncoupled going up the approach of Farras Lane, the trailer going through the woods and sandwiches scattering.

The boys were scared during their driverless ride, but found it a funny incident later. Rod Villere giving his account of it all, said it seemed as if something guided the trailer through the trees.

This troop will be host to the Bay St. Louis Troop Thursday night at the American Legion Hall.

ha Ketchum
It is a pleasure to have Arthur Ketchum back home after a stay in the hospital. He's doing O.K. and taking things easy.

DEC' ELLIOTT
Horace Farr, his son, Bernard and two nephews made a trip to Delaware last week and caught 50 specks weighing up to 2 1/2 pounds.

Horace says it is a swell place to go fishing and the fish are there. It is down the Mississippi river toward the mouth. Accommodations and service are there for the asking, boats, bait, etc. Red fish are also caught there.

Harold R. (Arky) Cliver recently from No. Dakota, and a native of Little Rock, Arkansas is now stationed out at the Test Site.
Arky loves his golf and plays on every occasion. He beat yours Truly last week and is still talking about it. All in all he is a good sport.

A lot of golfers are looking forward to the Badge Tournament to be played April 1 to 30th at Pass Christian Golf Course. Play will be for a badge to see the Greater New Orleans Open. 50c a round, as many as you like.

Suppose you had to catch a five pound bass by the end of the week. How would you go about it?
We asked this question of bait maker Dick Kotis, president of the Fryd Arbogast Company, in Akron, Ohio. "That," said Dick, "is a tough one. You would have to make every cast count." He then set forth the following four points as being the most important:

1. Select waters known to harbor big bass.
2. Fish the hour before and the hour after dawn and dusk and concentrate on the "edges" where bass may feed.
3. In mid-day fish deep. (The exception is during the spawning season.) Deep water probing with a Bottom Bumper Jig or Arbogast will frequently locate the "hogs."
4. Relax. Fish slowly and quietly and try a variety of baits.

"If these pointers don't work for you," Kotis added, "go back the next day just for fun. You'll probably catch a six pounder."

For catching fish 5 pounders or not it is wise to listen to the old timers. They have the know how that younger fishermen lack.

The working of a bait for instance has a lot to do with making fish strike. Handling of a fish after being caught the right way puts more fish on the table. Don't be a know it all. There is lots that can be learned about fishing.

The Public Relations Department of the Miss. Game and Fish Commission will spend the majority of the month of April setting up new hunting and fishing license dealers.
The Commission recognizes the fact that certain areas of the state have very few and widely scattered dealers. This makes it difficult for some sportsmen to purchase their licenses.

It is hoped that April's license program will be successful, and that every sportsman will be able to conveniently purchase a license in the vicinity of his home.

Those business and individuals interested in acquiring a dealership are urged to contact the Public Relations Department, Mississippi Game and Fish Commission, Box 451, Jackson, Mississippi.
A postcard will be sufficient. We will visit everyone who contacts the office and provide them with the necessary information to become a dealer. Locally licenses can be purchased from the Court House or from Kingston's Barber Shop out by the railroad station.

One of our latest new comers to this section is Whitney Carvin who is a welder out at the Test Site.
Whitney loves to hunt and fish but prefers fishing best. He says when he gets leveled away he expects to get to fishing. You can get plenty of it in these parts, Whitney.

Another new comer to this section is W. C. Ring who resides at Travel Rest Motel and is employed at NASA in Gainesville. All his spare time will be put in fishing, his favorite sport. Good luck fellow you'll find fishing at its best soon, both fresh and salt water.

Leo Cholina over from New Orleans for a while brought everything to fish with but his fishing rods. Better go back and get them Leo. It's mighty hard to fish without rods.

IN FARMERS' INCOME IN MISSISSIPPI State College, Miss. — Mississippi recorded a slight decrease in farmers' income from the sale of their products in 1964, although the realized net income per farm continues upward, according to Johnnie Sartor, associate agricultural economist of the Cooperative Extension Service.

The 1964 income from farm marketing is $791,063,000, the preliminary report from the U. S.
Department of Agriculture shows.
This is a decrease of $1,074,000 from the record $792,737,000 of 1963.

Livestock and livestock products, which include dairying and poultry, accounted for $287,000,000, or 36 percent of the 1964 total. The sale of crops made up the remainder.

Mississippi ranked 18th in the U. S. for total farm income from marketings in 1964, Sartor pointed out.

"If we add government payments to the farm income, the total is $803,218,000 for 1964 compared to $800,587,000 in 1963," he added.

The realized gross income per farm in Mississippi for 1964, was $7,872, an increase from $7,352 in 1963. Also higher was the realized net income per farm, $3,123 in 1964 compared to $3,060 in 1963.

Mississippi ranked 41st in the U. S. on realized gross income per farm in 1964, but ranked 26th in realized net income per farm.

Twenty-four states showed increases in cash receipts from mar-ketings in 1964 compared to 1963.
Cash receipts in three states were virtually unchanged from the previous year, and 21 states had smaller cash receipts. The changes ranged from a 19 percent decline in North Dakota to an 18 percent increase in Maine.

STENNIS VOWS HE WILL OPPOSE VOTING BILL
(By Senator John Stennis)
WASHINGTON — The Voting Bill which was sent to the Congress last week is clearly beyond the Constitutional power of the Congress to enact. I shall oppose it with all my strength.

The matter of voter qualification was so important to the framers of our Constitution that they settled this matter within the first fifty words of the Constitution itself by saying, "Electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature."

Congress has no power to give the right to vote to a person who is not qualified to vote under the laws of his own State. On that point our Constitution is crystal clear.

The quickest way to our downfall as a nation is through the continued casting aside of our Constitution.

The Constitution applies in times of stress and strain and emotional upsets as well as during normal times and times of calmness. Infact, it is in times of stress and strain that we most need Constitutional safeguards.

Even those friendly to the bill call it a radical bill, written under duress. This bill strikes down safeguards for voting the wisdom of centuries has proved necessary.
The proposed bill is so obviously unconstitutional and so contrary to legal principles that no good lawyer can justify support for it even if he were in complete accord with its purpose.

Passage of this bill would be a fair warning to all of the people that any provision of the Constitution can be ignored, openly violated, and completely flouted by any group who take their issue to the streets instead of the courts, and who base their appeals on politics and passion instead of law and reason.

There is absolutely no justification or authority for the Federal government to set the voting standards of an individual state, as this bill would do for every election from the lowest local office to the highest state and national office.

It lets in the irresponsible. In all of his stirring appeal, the President made no mention of the obligations of citizenship and of the responsibilities of those who vote.
He spoke only of the so-called "right" to vote. This is a gross error. No one has the right to vote.
It is a privilege. It must be earned.
Trampling on the rights of others by defiant marches in the public streets is not the proper way this privilege should be earned.

I shall oppose this bill with all of my strength and do so in good conscience and full assurance that I support the Constitution of the United States.

BALANCE

It is said of a certain friend of ours that he went off the deep end. Strange expression, that! It can mean that a person had a mental breakdown, or that he became a sort of fanatic; or it can mean simply that he got too interested in one thing to the exclusion of other important matters.

And the very fact that our generation has coined such an idiom is indicative of the fact that we see such tragedy every day.

One of the vital contributions of religion to life is its gift of balance. The knowledge of God helps a man see all else in its proper perspective.

In a day when millions are caught in turbulent crosscurrents, faith points to the true center of existence... worship steadies the mind and heart!
